POINTED POLITICAL PARAGRAPHS

Every Nevadan is cognizant of the fact that an extra session of the legislature of the state of Nevada was called during the winter of 1908, for the purpose of passing the state police bill, and the statutes of that session show that after such bill was passed, and while it was before the governor, awaiting his approval, an act of the same legislature was passed, entitled, "An Act Creating the Office of Commissioner of the Nevada State Police, prescribing his duties, fixing his compensation, and other matters relating thereto;" that by the passage of the last named act of the legislature, the governor was awarded an additional salary of $1200 per annum and traveling expenses, for acting as commissary, under the provisions of that law. Now it has been said, and indeed the circumstances surrounding the passage of the act would indicate, there was some kind of inducement therein for Governor Dickerson to approve the former bill.

Many of the voters of Nevada are inquiring what Governor Dickerson does for that $1200 per annum, and what his traveling expenses have been under the provisions of that law. (See Statutes of Nevada, 1908, page 37.)

Under the provisions of an act of the legislature entitled "An Act to define and regulate the business of banking; creating a state banking board, and defining its powers and duties, and providing for a bank examiner and the examination and supervision of banking corporations; and for the appointment of receivers in certain cases, fixing penalties for the violation thereof; and other matters relating thereto." Approved March 24, 1909. Statutes of Nevada, 1909, page 251. There was created the Nevada state banking board, which consists of the governor and four other persons appointed by him, the members of which board receive ten dollars a day for their services while engaged in the performance of their duties, and are entitled to traveling and other necessary expenses, together with a clerk, at a salary of $1800 per annum.

The voters of Nevada would like to have Governor Dickerson explain, while making his campaign, what service the board of state examiners has rendered the state in the past two years, and particularly in reference to their conduct of the affairs of THE LATE EUREKA AND RHYOLITE BANKS. This information is due them in explanation of the alleged economical government our governor and his fellow candidates on the democratic ticket, allege they have given the state.

The Bonanza would like to be informed what service Sam Davis has rendered the state, as chairman of the publicity commission during his term of office, for which he received from the state the munificent salary of $2,500 per annum and traveling expenses. This is some more democratic economy, and we trust the democratic press of the state will not fail to furnish the information sought for. Attached to this commission is a secretary at a salary of $1800 per annum, but as the statutes of 1907 informs us this salary is payable out of the contributions made by the several counties and private individuals, we would like to inquire if it is not possible that an appropriation will be asked at the next session of the legislature to pay the salary of this commission, which we are informed has done absolutely nothing for the state, except to manage politics and draw the salary fixed by law, and while we are on this subject we would like to inquire what services the state auditor has performed for the $4800 he has received in the past two years, other than acting as a politician for the democratic party.

It is apparent from actual observation that the bullion tax collector, the mine inspector and the state bank examiner are each and all doing political stunts for the democratic party, while in the alleged performance of their official duties, and while traveling at the expense of the state.

These are a few samples of the boasted economy of the democratic party and should appeal to the ordinary voter on election day.

Added to this we have the famous act of the legislature of 1909, providing that the justices of the supreme court of the state of Nevada shall compile, revise, annotate and index the laws of the state of Nevada, and appropriating $15,000 for the purpose of paying the justices of the supreme court for such service, and this in the fact of Article 6, Section 115, of the constitution of the state of Nevada, which provides that the salary of justices of the supreme court and district judges shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which they shall have been elected. The Bonanza has always understood that the judicial branch of the government, particularly the supreme court, was for the purpose of interpreting the laws, not for making or compiling them, and we cannot understand or appreciate the position of our supreme court when called upon to pass upon any questions after the compilation of our laws, under the provisions of the act of the legislature referred to. (Statutes of 1909, page 330). We presume this is some more democratic economy, spiced with democratic consistency and intelligence.

PRICE OF ADMISSION CONTINUES THE SAME

The program of the Butler theatre for today is as follows: "The Gambler's Wife," is the story of a reformation brought about to the gambler through the efforts of his ever faithful wife. "Mrs. Rivington's Pride" shows where a domestic tragedy occurred owing to a misunderstanding. A young married woman helps her brother and is wrongfully accused by her husband, but after a lapse of many years the wrong is righted and everything is lovely. "Resourceful Robert" is a comedy in which Robert is forced to play the part of Sherlock Holmes in order to make the girl's father give his consent. "Bertie's Elopement" is another picture where the objections of the irate parents must be overcome. But the way Bertie succeeds in doing this makes it one of the best comedies that has been shown for some time. It may be safely said, however, that this is one of the most enjoyable programs which the Butler has produced for some time.

BIG INCREASE IN ARIZONA'S POPULATION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The population of Arizona, according to the late census, is 204,364, an increase of 62.2 per cent over that of 1900.

All kinds of ruling and binding at the Bonanza.
